FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Island Nutritionist Nominated for 3 Best of Canada Awards for Natural Health Practitioners

(CHARLOTTETOWN PE) Sept 1, 2010 – There’s a lot to be said for helping the population of Canada’s smallest province lose more than 65,000 pounds in only five years. Having facilitated so much weight loss, Rachelle Wood is practically a household name in Prince Edward Island. Now with her online weight loss program, SeeResults, this Registered Holistic Nutritionist is gaining much momentum across the rest of Canada. In fact, Wood has received three nominations for the first annual Best of Canada Awards for Natural Health practitioners.

“I’ve been nominated for awards before, but these nominations mean a lot because they’ve been put forward by members of the public,” states Wood. She adds, “I’m also proud that an Ottawa-based reseller of my SeeResults software, Rachel Hewitt, has been nominated for two awards. It speaks a lot to the program I’ve worked so hard to develop.”

Wood has been nominated for Most Trusted Natural Health Resource – Social Media, Favorite Health Motivator – Personal Role Model, and Favorite Local Nutritionist. Members of the general public can vote from September 1 to October 1, 2010.

SeeResults is an online weight-loss service being used by individuals and Registered Holistic Nutritionists across Canada. With SeeResults, individuals are supplied with meal plans and recipes, are able to track their weight-loss progress, and can connect with Wood who monitors the progress of participants. Registered Holistic Nutritionists use the software to open up new revenue streams for their practices by allowing them to venture beyond their local area to gain new clients.
